

After his statements in Beloha Androy, Hery Rajaonarimampianina demonstrated that after two years of power, he is profoundly affected by the syndrome of Procuste. What is it ?

The syndrome of Procuste comes from the name of an innkeeper of the Greek mythology which lengthened of strength those among his hosts who did not go into the bed which he proposed them, and who cut the members of those who exceeded it. This myth illustrates perfectly this universal trend to be deformed (or deny) facts to make them match to a rational or religious orthodoxy

The Syndrome of Procuste is characterized by the atrophy of the imagination and the creativity, by the incapacity to be thought in a analog way and by a trend to want "to format" everything according to their own criteria, on behalf of (under the cover of) one claimed rationalism. The Reason, the Science and the Truth are often taken hostage by these psychologically hyperstiff individuals.

New Procustes are often, administrators, accountants, administrators, members of a religious order or scientists. They exercise their tyrannical power in the administrations or the large companies, within which their trend to want to play the young-heads can amply express themselves. Authoritarian and castrating, they make an excessive use of their dominant position by obliging their subordinates "to go into the rank". They use the criticism in abundance because they always want to be right and to force the others to accept their arguments. The bad faith is so a second nature for this kind of person. They boast of possessing a staunch logic, even when the facts their blame. Their propensity to deform or to deny the truth makes them dogmatic and sometimes dangerous. Those who oppose them or question their rationalité run a risk of being excommunicated, compromised and persecuted psychologically intellectually socially?

Having said that, I do not know who of Hery Rajaonarimampianina (57 years) and I (62 years) will leave this planet Earth. In any case, I don't give a damn if he compromises me and persecutes me because I do not intend to take the truth in my grave. His statements, in so much "president of the republic", to Beloha Androy, demonstrated this disease which deteriorates from day to day

Yes, he became dangerous for all the Malagasy people. The proofs of his syndrome of Procuste are in his speech of January 8th, 2016.

So, in Madagascar, there is neither Kere, nor kidnapping, nor traffics in any kinds (rosewood and endangered species), nor urban and rural insecurity, nor dahalo, nor politicization of the administration, nor unballastings (but "cuts"), nor corruption.
